Spending and Savings Plan

- Key areas you should account for in the spending and savings plan:
 - ✓ Monthly income vs. expenses
 - ✓ Savings plan

Spending and Savings Plan

- John and Jane Lee have two young children and they purchased a new home for $360,000. The Lee's mortgage lender will not penalize them if they prepay. Jane wants to purchase new furniture for the house without using their savings. They also want to begin saving for college.

Spending and Savings Plan

- Along with a monthly mortgage of $1950, the Lee's have a $300 car payment. John earns an annual net income of $60,000, and has diligently built a $30,000 savings account.

Spending and Savings Plan

- The Lee's have now owned their home for two years. One summer night, a severe storm hits the Lee's home causing $20,000 worth of damage. However, their homeowner's insurance will only cover $10,000. Using the spending plan you developed, determine if the Lees can afford to make the necessary repairs to their home.
