LPA Choice: Unprecedented Information to Turn Cautions to Accepts

Effective October 13, 2024

We’re implementing enhanced feedback messages for new submissions in Loan Product Advisor® (LPASM) on or after October 13, 2024, for certain loans that receive a Caution risk class. These new feedback messages provide unprecedented information about our purchase requirements and actionable feedback to help turn Cautions to Accepts.

Introducing LPA Choice

When a loan receives a Caution risk class, loan originators may be unsure about how to proceed and might even consider it a hard stop. However, a Caution can be an opportunity, one that with more information about our purchase requirements, could turn into an Accept. We’re introducing LPA Choice to help uncover that opportunity.

Your loan originators always have a choice to use LPA feedback to turn Cautions into Accepts. Our new LPA Choice feedback messages can help make that choice easier.

For certain loans, LPA Choice feedback messages offer unprecedented information about our purchase requirements and actionable feedback that can help loan originators make faster, informed decisions about how to proceed. If your loan originators can provide the information identified in the messages and resubmit to LPA, the loan is more likely turn into an Accept.
